Selectmen's Meeting

AUGUST 26, 1986 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

10-YEAR CAPITAL COSTS

PLANNING COMMITTEE FORMED

In meeting last Tuesday with the Finance Committee and Town Accountant Betty Sears, Selectmen urged the committee's cooperation in planning a five-year budget plan and a 10-year capital expenditure plan. Following discussion it was agreed to form a Capital Planning Committee and to hold an organizational meeting at 7 p.m. September 17th in the Town Hall, with continued meetings to be held every other Wednesday.

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta outlined some of the areas large expenditures will be needed in the future - some more immediately needed than others. Among the more pressing costs are the two schools (the boilers and repairs of the local schools and the roof and sewer plant of the Old Rochester Regional High School). Other costs include funding for SEMASS waste-to-energy plant, which will probably see an increase over what was originally planned because of the drop in fuel costs for the town's rebate; the proposed police station; sewer expansion with Fairhaven; and possible another fire truck. "And the list grows", exclaimed DeCosta.

The chairman explained now that federal Revenue Sharing is out, "we have to depend on keen competition for state or federal grants, overriding Proposition 2½, bond issues or raising and appropriating ourselves at town meeting to obtain some of the larger expenditures".

Finance Committee member Peter B. Hodges said "it is unreasonable to believe we can pay for all these town needs in the next five years. My personal opinion is that we should put together a package of pressing needs and ask for an override." He added he didn't know if people in town really know what these capital costs are.

Hodges continued saying department heads should prepare a "laundry list" of needs; plan where the money will come from; perhaps form a special committee whose task would be to determine exactly what is necessary department by department; set a priority list; then budget where the money will come from, and hopefully, "we can find some outside money".

Hodges noted that when Proposition 2½ came into law there were provisions built in to legally override for costs beyond budget items. He said, "It's going to be an educational and promotional job informing the public that the schools aren't the only problems in this town."

In response to Hodges' question, "what can we vote at the next Special Town Meeting?", the town accountant replied, "we haven't set the tax rate as yet, so we can still raise and appropriate".

The consensus of opinion was that the planning committee should be comprised of representatives from the Finance Committee, Selectmen and possibly Water Superintendent William "Nick" Nicholson.

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH a group of residents from the Crescent Beach area who are protesting the action taken at a previous meeting whereby the shellfish warden and harbormaster will move boats in the channel of Pine Island Pond.

A petition, signed by 100 residents of Crescent Beach, read, "We as residents and property owners of Crescent Beach want to register a complaint against the actions being taken by the Shellfish Warden and the Town in changing a multi-purpose shellfish/boating recreation area into an oyster bed, and excluding its use for quahogging and boating. This area known as 'The Channel' was set aside for boat moorings in 1907 by Lilburne Hiller, and since then residents have launched and moored small boats, as well as quahogged. With the introduction of contaminated oysters by the shellfish warden this year, the area was unavailable for quahogging, and it appears the shellfish warden intends to make this area an oyster bed and further restrict its use in the future. In the interest of fair play, we ask that you reconsider your proposal and allow this area to continue to be used as it has been for the past 80 years - a multi-purpose recreation area."

THE SEPTEMBER BIRTHSTONE
SAPPHIRE

As a Birthstone, the SAPPHIRE is the symbol of Truth, Sincerity and Faithfulness.

The Persians believed the earth rested on a SAPPHIRE whose reflection gave color to the sky. In the Zenzkar mountains, home of the famous Kashmir Blue SAPPHIRE, villagers used these hard blue gems as flint to make fire.

While most people think of a SAPPHIRE as blue (the "Blue Velvet" SAPPHIRES being the most prized of all), actually the SAPPHIRE comprises all of the highly colored and transparent varieties of the mineral Corundum except the Red, which is called Ruby. SAPPHIRES range from white to near black, through all the shades of Blue, Violet, Yellow and Green, and the Star Sapphires, with their six rays, are the favorite stones of many.

There is a fascination in the infinite variety of Sapphire shades and colorings and in the fact that one gem may appear entirely different under different kinds and degrees of light.

The world's finest quality SAPPHIRES come from the Kashmir district of India, while Ceylon is the source of the largest quantity of Gem-Quality SAPPHIRES. Other important sources are Burma and Thailand; less significant amounts are found in the United States in Montana and North Carolina, and a few inferior stones come from Europe, chiefly from Bohemia, the Rhine District in Germany, and from France.

While the deep blue natural SAPPHIRES must be reserved for the few who can afford them, scientists have added their art to that of nature so that beautiful SAPPHIRES would be available to all. Synthetic Star SAPPHIRES which rival the natural gems in appearance are an outstanding achievement and less expensive than the natural gems. They are chemically identical and structurally similar, and have the same degree of hardness as the natural. In the synthetics the star asterism is particularly sharp, and the color is an ideal deep blue.

But we want an assurance from you that the area where the oysters have been placed won't develop into a commercial business."

Chairman DeCosta said the town has no such plans, and "as long as I am on the Board of Selectmen, that area will never be used for commercial shellfishing".

Selectman Frank Suzan explained that traditionally "we have transplanted oysters, and we are not doing anything different except we cannot use the Mattapoisett River as was done in the past because the river is polluted. We had to find a new place and Pine Island Pond was chosen as the best place."

Suzan said, "Eel Pond is our main area for growing oysters, and this is a tremendous spawning area, but we have to protect this area. The problem with Pine Island Pond is that it is too easily accessible and it has become 'raked over' for quahogs. The shellfish constables have done a super job in getting shellfish back." Suzan added, "It's a way of life; we love quahogging, but there are some people who are not fair with the amount of quahogs they take."

Dr. James Bonnar, a beach resident, cited a book loaned to him by Professor James Hoff, SMU biology teacher and year-round resident of the beach area, saying oysters can only stand two hours of freezing water, then they are dead. Bonnar felt the oysters would get caught in the ice and also that there is too much fresh water coming into the Pond which could kill them. Bonnar added that he didn't think Shellfish Constable Brian Nunes had any control over private lots. "We feel results of a Harbor Study Committee should be forthcoming before making us move our boats."

Constable Nunes responded to Dr. Bonnar, saying, "This area (Pine Island Pond) was selected by the state for a contaminated oyster relay." He cited surveys that have been done at no cost to the taxpayers for the shellfisher's benefit. "We are trying to help you to preserve the shellfish for now and for the future," said Nunes.

Nunes, who explained the relay was started in April and was expected to remain for 90 days, said the time was extended to remain until October to be sure the oysters are all OK. He added that this relay will be done each year. This statement brought a groan from the beach residents, who felt they would be losing out for the length of their summer for quahogging in the area and using their boats.

Harbormaster Steven Mach, who at a previous meeting had also agreed on the moving of the boats, responded to a statement by one of the beach residents that Hiller in 1907 had set aside the area for boat use, saying, "only the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers can control what can be set aside for boats." He noted the boat chains move around and disturb the oysters. "We are not trying to kick out all the boats, just move them from the bed areas."

Selectman Suzan recommended allowing the eight boats remaining to stay there to see if they create any damage - then place a moratorium on any additional boats.

Mrs. McCullough asked Nunes if Professor Hoff could accompany Nunes and a representative from the State Division of Marine Fisheries when the oysters are moved. Nunes said he would love to have Professor Hoff accompany him. "I welcome him", he said.

MET WITH Steven Ruel, owner of Ensign Marine Specialties, Inc., Route 6, who was coordinator of the Hobie Cat weekend held last month, to discuss Ruel's failure to notify the Board of the Hobie Cat weekend's events.

The Board agreed coordination of events is of vital importance, especially in the busy harbor in the summer months. Selectman Suzan emphasized "we just wanted you to come in ahead of the scheduled event to keep us informed. Anything of that magnitude should be cleared through us".

Additionally, Suzan told Ruel he failed to notify either the police department, the harbormaster, or Reservation Golf Club, all of which should have been done. Suzan said there could have been a serious problem if the event had conflicted with the golf club's tournament. Also, there was a problem with the conflicted use of the radio band with the police department.

Ruel contended he has been conducting the Hobie Cat races for eight years and on the same weekend -- the third weekend in July. Ruel apologized for not notifying the Selectmen, "but to be honest with you", he said he wasn't aware that it was necessary. He said he pays dearly to use Camp Massasoit and the participants here for the weekend contribute to the local businesses profits.

AGREED TO ACCEPT THE BID of Yarger and Associates, Inc. of Falls Church, Virginia to conduct a salary and classification study for the Personnel Board, subject to one minor change, at a cost of $4,900., just short of the $5,000 voted at the annual town meeting.

Chairman of the Personnel Board Gaye D'Agata said all members of the board agreed with the recommendation. However, one member felt town employees should not write their own job descriptions. If not done properly, the bidding company could have trouble deciphering the explanations. He recommended having department heads help with the wording in using key words to assist the study interviewers.

Mrs. D'Agata explained she checked 12 of the company's references, two of which were Bourne and Wareham. The majority were pleased with the larger Yarger Company's work. She said all town employees, totaling 165, including full, part-time and seasonal (with the exception of school employees) will be started in the next month. Department heads will be notified to cooperate with the company representative.

Designer Selection Committee of the Police Station Evaluation and Needs Committee to award a contract to David M. Crawley Associates, Inc. for their bid of $5,000 as their total fee "to provide the Committee with all the information necessary for a meaningful presentation at Town Meeting."

Peter B. Hodges, chairman of the Designer Selection Committee, noted in his letter to the Selectmen that only one other firm bid was received, and that was from Taskin Consulting Engineers whose $5,000 bid included a charge for telephone, printing and travel costs, which the committee felt could increase the total cost to $7,500. Seven other companies responded but only with descriptive brochures and no cost estimates.

The Board agreed to accept the Committee's recommendation with the provision the contract be reviewed by town counsel.

HEARD Thomas Grondski explain the progress and future plans of the Playground Committee. Various fund-raising events are planned, including one being held this past week with the line of pennies at Center School.

Grondski said, "We are aiming for April or May for construction of the playground with, hopefully, having the community involved in the building."

They were greeted with applause from the approximately 100 residents of the three towns (Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester) when Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta read an announcement of a generous donation from an anonymous summer resident to cover the balance of roof repair with Mattapoisett's previously voted $9,643.82, totalling $22,000.

The Mattapoisett officials made the announcement in the early stages of a lengthy meeting at the high school with the ORR District School Committee, school officials and selectmen from the three towns.

DeCosta read, "We recommend the $9,643.83 voted at the 1986 Mattapoisett Annual Town Meeting will be resubmitted as a new article at our October Special Town Meeting whereby Mattapoisett will pay up to $22,000 for the repair of the locker room roof, independent of any action by the other two towns or the District. The source of the balance of the $22,000 will be derived from a generous gift from one of Mattapoisett's long-time summer residents. There will be no strings attached to this $22,000 other than to fix the roof presently over the condemned section of the high school.

"The Board wish to make it very clear that by recommending this proposal we believe we are taking the necessary action to protect the investment our taxpayers have made in the past in support of the ORR district high school. We further believe that the ORR School Committee must take the responsibility delegated to them both by the three-town agreement and by statute and develop and implement a comprehensive program to bring the high school up to the standard expected by the taxpayers of all three towns."

"Even with the generous offer," said School Committee Chairman Kay Reis, "the sum will pay only for the roof and not inside; therefore, unless the remaining $13,000 can be found somewhere, the boys' locker room will remain under the Cease and Desist Order placed by Mattapoisett Building

Inspector David Crook on August 11th. Marion Selectman Richard Lagreze indicated Marion would contribute towards this effort of Mattapoisett's commitment. Committee member Patricia Ryan said "all attempts will be made to make up the difference, but until then, the inside repair will have to wait".

The meeting moved along with a school committee vote to "incur a debt by authorizing Assistant Superintendent/Business Manager Andrew J. Santos to float a bond to pay for the replacement of the entire roof of the senior high school, as per the present agreement (minus the $22,000 repaired section)."

The committee also voted to request that each Board of Selectmen seek a timely special town meeting to vote on the bond issue. School Superintendent Joan Walsh noted that if the district replaces the entire roof, the district will be eligible for state funding, possibly up to 65 percent. Mr. Nielsen of Senator William MacLean's office indicated the Senator would do all he can to support the school when the three towns have made a cooperative effort on their own.

Santos noted the original estimate of $22,000 last spring has been increased to $25,000 for 6,500 square feet of roof, plus an additional $10,000 to cover repairs to light fixtures, ceilings and painting the interior. Santos also quoted costs of a bond issue in either 5, 10 or 20 year issues, as they would apply to each town on the present apportionment plan.

Marion's Selectman Lagreze said Marion will meet its share, but would Rochester's Board voiced several statements concerning Rochester's ability to pay even a small amount to repair the roof and summed it up by agreeing that if people think if the formula is changed, Rochester can afford the roof - it cannot. Selectman Fred Underhill said, "I cannot speak for the town, but personally, I feel it is the school committee's responsibility to incur the debt, then we will go to town meeting. I can't guarantee how Rochester will vote."

Mrs. Reis explained the question of a new formula is being worked on by a sub-committee. Hopefully they will come up with a recommendation by the town meeting dates.

Speaking to a smaller group at the regular school committee meeting prior to the joint session, Mrs. Patricia Ryan and Santos gave a detailed report complete with slides on the past financial problems, past funds spent on repairs, the replacement of the junior high school roof at no cost to the towns, and a detailed list of the major capital expenditures that are still needed, totaling over a million dollars.

Mrs. Reis commented that after awhile you just cannot patch anymore. Santos noted the committee budgets yearly for maintenance and has had the roof repaired several times. He commented that with flat roofs in New England, you will have leaks.

Many questions were raised from the audience, the comments were mostly why the committee had waited so long to repair the roof; a comment on the roof replacement at Dighton-Rehoboth High School; and why the maintenance budget wasn't increased.

Mattapoisett Selectman James Huntoon commented that Selectmen do not have the authority, but that the school committee has, to take care of capital costs. "I say repair the roof and send us a bill. You (the school committee) did an excellent job lobbying at town meeting to increase the budget. Now, borrow the money and send us (referring to the Boards

Here's how Chiropractic treats
Athletic Injuries

Most athletes have come to recognize the hazards involved in their activities, and are among the most regular patients of chiropractic.

It is important to consult your doctor of chiropractic regularly, regardless of your type of recreational activity. If you are a parent, it is important to make certain your child does not suffer a spinal problem.

Your doctor of chiropractic will detect and correct subluxations, however incurred, and will arrest or prevent problems which they would produce. Chiropractic treatments can not only re-establish nerve function, but will relax you as well. With improved health, your enjoyment of your recreational activity will be enhanced.

BASKETWEAVING

BASKETWEAVING is an old art dating back thousands of years. It is thought to have had its beginnings in Egypt, India and Peru. Baskets have been made of bamboo stalks, willow twigs, tree roots, strips of bark, leaves, reeds, grass and straw, just to mention a few. Baskets were first made just for their usefulness but as time elapsed they were also designed for their decorativeness. The American Indians were very expert basketmakers, some of their baskets had very clever designs.

Come and enjoy learning this art with us, Saturday, September 13th, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Ann Ritchie

These "readings" are modified and amplified electronically into three new laser light beams, created simultaneously with the reading of the transparency, which exposes a 70 mm LaserColor negative. LaserColor prints are then made from the negative in a photo laboratory employing standard photographic practices.

Each of the various transparency films has its own characteristics and minor imperfections, particularly as related to color transmission. These differences in the films are pre-programmed into the LaserColor computer so corrections can be made for them during scanning. Also, automatic contrast control (electronic masking) has been incorporated into the LaserColor process. The computer automatically holds back on the exposure of the highlight portions of the slide while increasing the exposure of the shadow areas--thus enhancing the details in both areas. These several innovative electronic

Beginning in September, the YMCA will be offering the new national YMCA progressive swim instruction program that begins with parent and infants at six months and continues with special programs; swimming for the terrified concentrates on those beginners with real apprehension and fear of the water. The YMCA also conducts YMCA/American Red Cross Lifeguarding-Lifesaving Program, as well as Water Safety Instructor course.

The YMCA has developed a wide range of exciting youth programs and activities. The YMCA will be offering a youth basketball clinic, gymnastics, sports instruction and a Saturday morning program for grade school children. For the pre-schooler there are parent-child gym classes beginning at age 6 months and specialty programs for the pre-schooler ages 3-5 years, such as dance, art, cooking and gym.

Developing leadership skills in people is one of the goals of the YMCA. The YMCA offers a teen volunteer program, Leaders Club, that is designed to train teenagers to assist in YMCA programs. The YMCA has already begun to form groups from area schools to participate in the Massachusetts YMCA Youth and Government program, a hands-on state government program for high school students. Last year seven students from Dartmouth High attended, under the direction of James Travers. Working at

First in the new season of the club's evening lecture series is scheduled for Wednesday, September 10th, at 7:30 p.m. Held monthly at Allen's Neck Friends Meeting, except in December when a pot luck supper follows the Christmas Count field trips, these lectures are free and open to the interested birdwatchers in the area.

The September 10th program will feature Greg Crisci, now of Roslindale but formerly of North Dartmouth. He will present a color slide show and commentary entitled "Shooting Insects in the Field". An accomplished amateur photographer in the area of natural history, Mr. Crisci is a prominent leader in the programming and activities of the Boston Camera Club, where he is currently Color Slide Division Chairman after serving for two years as its Nature Slide Division Chairman. The son of Frances Crisci of North Dartmouth, Mr. Crisci made his debut in presenting programs on the natural world with a color slide essay about Tucker Woods, an unspoiled tract near his home which he explored as a youth and shared with an appreciative audience at the North Dartmouth branch library several years ago.

Thanksgiving is less than 3 months away ...

Woven wood shades warm up this cozy kitchen.

Roman style shades are by Kirsch.

I'm sorry to have to say so, but it's true. Now that the children are back in school (excuse me while I jump for joy) and summer is coming to a close, it's time to look ahead to the Holidays. Good redecorating takes time, it requires careful thought and planning so there won't be any last minute panic before rich Aunt Martha and her eighth husband arrive for turkey dinner. .

We can help by providing a complete source of decorating options for you to choose from and, as always, free consultations.
